

Attorney Brad Wideman

Driven. Brad is a serial entrepreneur and is driven to help his clients succeed and close the next deal. He uses his years of in-house legal experience to focus his clients on what matters.

Brad's corporate practice focuses on M&A, securities, and financing matters as well as acting as outside general counsel for small and medium sized companies. A Missouri native, Brad lives near his childhood best friend in Chandler and loves spending time with his three children, passing along his love for Cardinal baseball, basketball and hockey.
