Heather Horrocks

Relationships. Heather thrives on creating and cultivating relationships.

Whether it is connecting with her community or grabbing lunch with an old friend, Heather loves to learn what motivates and inspires people, and applies the same passion to her legal practice. A recovering and former litigator, she enjoys analyzing problems and developing solutions to help her clients achieve their goals. In her spare time, Heather is busy with her husband, twin daughters, rescue dog, and enjoys literature and the arts-in particular being a member of the Women's Arts Council for the Phoenix Art Museum.
