Jennifer Lefere

Determined. Jennifer does what it takes to get the job done, no matter what the challenge.

She believes in always doing the right thing and treating others with respect, which translates to effective collaboration and successful outcomes. Her insurmountable drive is evident outside of the office as well, as she stays active with hobbies like cycling, skiing, sculling, hiking and swimming. When it's time to wind down and relax, Jennifer likes reading and spending time with her family
