

Attorney

Jonathan Ross

Tried and true. Jonathan's approach has never been ordinary – his unique background equips him with a creative toolkit to overcome every obstacle.

Connecting with those around us can be at times unnerving, but building organic relationships over conversations that matter (like raving over the new "hip" brunch spot) is Jonathan's style. Speaking of style, when he's not assisting clients, you can find him sporting (and creating) new clothing trends. Besides fashion, his second-favorite f-word, family, is where he commits most of his time to. Jonathan dedicates his time to equality organizations, helping advance important progress in his home state of Arizona.
